COUNT ONE

(Transactions in Criminally Derived Property)

The Grand Jury charges:

The Scheme to Launder Bribery Proceeds

1. From in or about 2009 up to and including at least in or about August 2011, MAHMOUD THIAM, the defendant, a United States citizen, leveraged his positions as the Minister of Mines, Geology, Energy and Hydraulics of the Republic of Guinea and the Minister of Mines and Geology of the Republic of Guinea (collectively, the "Minister of Mines"), positions THIAM held from in or about 2009 to in or about 2010, and engaged in a scheme to accept bribes from senior representatives of a Chinese conglomerate and to launder that money into the United States and elsewhere.

2. In exchange for those bribe payments, MAHMOUD THIAM, the defendant, used his position as Minister of Mines to promote the award to the Chinese conglomerate of exclusive and highly valuable investment rights in a wide range of sectors of the Guinean economy, including near total control of Guinea's valuable mining sector.

3. In order to covertly receive the bribes, MAHMOUD THIAM, the defendant, opened a bank account in Hong Kong (the "Thiam Hong Kong Account") and misreported his occupation to the Hong Kong bank to conceal his status as a public official. THIAM then transferred millions of dollars in bribe proceeds from the Thiam Hong Kong Account to, among other things, a bank account belonging to THIAM and THIAM's wife in the United States; a Malaysian company that facilitated and concealed the purchase of a $3,750,000 estate in Dutchess County, New York (the "Dutchess County Estate"); a contractor in the amount of approximately $250,000 for work on the Dutchess County Estate; and private preparatory schools attended by THIAM's children.

4. In furtherance of the scheme, MAHMOUD THIAM, the defendant, made false statements to two banks based in New York, New York, and on United States federal income tax returns filed with the Internal Revenue Service to conceal his position as a foreign public official and the source of the funds in the Thiam Hong Kong Account.

5. Overall, THIAM received into the Thiam Hong Kong Account bribes totaling approximately $8.5 million from senior representatives of the Chinese conglomerate.

Statutory Allegations

6. From in or about 2009 up to and including at least in or about August 2011, in the Southern District of New York and elsewhere, MAHMOUD THIAM, the defendant, a United States person, knowingly engaged in and attempted to engage in monetary transactions in criminally derived property that were of a value greater than $10,000, to wit, wire transfers of funds in excess of $10,000 from a bank account in Hong Kong under THIAM's control to, among other locations, a bank account in New York, New York, such property having been derived from a specified unlawful activity, to wit, proceeds of bribes paid to THIAM in violation of laws of the Republic of Guinea prohibiting bribery of a public official to influence THIAM, in his position as Minister of Mines, to promote the award to particular companies of exclusive and valuable business interests in the Republic of Guinea.

(Title 18, United States Code, Sections 1957 & 2.)

COUNT TWO

The Grand Jury further charges:

7. The allegations set forth in paragraphs One through Five are realleged and incorporated by reference as if fully set forth herein.

8. Malaysia and caused the transfer of $375,000 from a bank account in Mozambique to a bank account in New York, New York, to conceal and disguise his ownership and control of the Dutchess County Estate and the source of the proceeds used to purchase the Dutchess County Estate.
